Strength From The Word

Have I not commanded you? Be strong and of good courage; be not afraid, neither be dismayed; for the Lord your God is with you no matter where your go. (Joshua 1:9)

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

Dont Get Weary in Well Doing

Let me start by saying a great big thank you to our members who responded to my invitation for ideas for the FCPO. I appreciate so much the ideas that were put forward, and want you to know that we will do what we can as resources permit to review and implement them. For those of you that did not send an email to me, the invitation is still open to forward your ideas and criticisms (if necessary) to my attention at fcpo.ontario@gmail.com

As I have read your emails and have heard through members of our Board about Officers and their families that are going through deep waters currently, I could not stop thinking of 2 Thessalonians 3:13. But ye brethren, be not weary in well doing. KJV. How easy it is for us as Peace Officers to become overwhelmed by what we see, and what we are called upon to do. We have the power of the Holy Spirit and the Risen Christ dwelling within us, but at the end of the day, we are still human, and still have the old nature. Now I know that most of you dont have any trouble keeping on the right track. But I tend to believe that across this great country there are a few of us that get frustrated and tired of all the sorrow and pain that we deal with. I know that there are many of our members that are discouraged, and are unsure if they will even continue with policing.

Let me tell you today, that Canada needs Christian Peace Officers. We need people of integrity, people who are willing to stand for what is right, and do right, because it is the right thing to do. As I think of Paul and all that he went through for the cause of Christ, it is interesting to hear him say, ...be not weary in well doing. If we put ourselves in his shoes, we would see that he too would have had those moments. We live in a sin-sick world, and we know that better than most people. Every call we respond to, and every person we have contact with is God-ordained. He knows what is going on behind the scenes better than we do, and periodically He allows us to see the good that we are doing. I remember one call for a family dispute. It was a Sunday morning and Mom and Dad had been getting ready for Church, when their teenage son initiated a fight with them. When I arrived things had calmed down, and as I sat with them I asked where they went to Church. I was able to tell them that I was a Christian, and the Mother began to cry. She said that they had been praying that God would send a Christian Police Officer to their home to speak with their son. I was able by the Grace and Goodness of God to share with their son and see some healing eventually take place. And so my tired friend, hang in there. Dont get weary. God has a plan for you, and He needs you to actively participate in it. Remember Romans 13, and the fact that we are ministers of God, and let us get our second wind and go forth into battle.

Bluenose Chapter Report

The most important information coming out of Bluenose Chapter is that our Chapter President, Bruce Mosher continues to assist us in our efforts to organize the 2011 conference. Actually, Bruce looks great and is on a solid spiritual foundation as he faces the greatest challenge of his life.

Bluenose Chapter hosted a fellowship luncheon at the new Best Western Hotel in Bridgewater, (our 2011 conference site) on September 7th, 2010 at 1300 hrs.

Bluenose Chapter continues to host the National Help-line. We have recruited a host of very experienced and capable counsellors.

Recently, Ron Seney proceeded to Rogersville, N.B. and met with Paul Doiron, our New Brunswick FCPO Director. Paul is assisting us in getting the word out (by distributing our preconference brochure) to the Canadian Penitentiary Service and the Miramichi Regional Police. Paul has contacts with the local RCMP and in his free time.....he is involved in crime prevention initiatives!

For the benefit of our Executive Director, it might be of interest that Paul is now a member of the Blue Knights.

It was mutually agreed that there is a dire need for more regional input in the Peacemaker. We share the concern of our National President and our Executive Director on this score. Our submissions will obviously be short because we are giving conference 2011 the same effort that conference 2000 gleaned from us. Feed-back is the life-blood of management and our post conference file clearly indicated that our Nova Scotia and New Brunswick conferences were a success. The late Chief Shirlen Seamone, of the Bridgewater Police Service and the late Hon. Mike Baker, Justice Minister & Attorney General of Nova Scotia communicated that they were blessed by attending our FCPO banquet. They both faced terminal illness with cancer and the courage they displayed in that battle reflected an inner strength only the Lord could provide.

Ron Seney concluded the executive meeting with the following. A Christian of the Anglican persuasion showed up at the pearly gates. He was met by St.

Peter who offered to show him around. As they proceeded down a long corridor they passed a door that had the inscription Baptists. St. Peter directed his new resident to be very quiet as they passed that door. Said St. Peter, they think they are the only ones here!

The strength of FCPO Canada in the Atlantic provinces and our lay outreach comes from the unity of being Christians first. Our membership can be found in worship in Baptist, Anglican, Roman Catholic and in the United Church of Canada to name but a few of the Christian denominations represented. We have gleaned support from the Salvation Army in Nova Scotia and the P.A.O.C. in New Brunswick, which was solicited by our N.B. director in one of the most successful church parades and law enforcement appreciation services outside of Toronto! No one will ever top the organizational ability of the late Jim Sneep.

We thank God that we have a capable director in Quebec, where we once had a vibrant chapter. John Allen is forwarding a copy of our newly-minted conference poster for French translation to Ron Mostrey.

Best regards & God bless, Ron S. Seney.

FAITH OF OUR FATHERS

The Fellowship of Christian Peace Officers - Canada has chosen Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, as the site of our 2011 conference and convention with the planning for the event being handled by our Bluenose Chapter.

While the face of modern policing bares little resemblance to the beats walked by our forefathers, the 2011 Conference and Convention will remember all the great brothers and sisters in Christ who have built the foundations upon which law enforcement rests today. The 2011 FCPO Conference & Convention will be dedicated to the Glory of God and memory of our dear friend, Staff Inspector James Sneep. James was a loyal supporter of the work of FCPO and lead the way for our efforts with the peace officers in the Toronto area.

Your watchmen shall lift their voices, with their voices they shall sing together; For they shall see eye to eye when the Lord bring back Zion. Isaiah 52:8

Please join the PeaceMaker in praying for our Bluenose Chapter as they continue to pull together the planning for the 2011 FCPO National Conference and Convention. ## Chaplains Corner

Merv Tippe

Have you ever watched a dog chase its shadow around? It can be a very comical sight.

They seem to confuse their shadow for something that is concrete and catchable. Time and time again you will see the dog pounce on the shadow believing that it has cornered and finally apprehended it. The end result however, is no matter how hard the dog tries, the shadow always eludes its grasp. Each of us in our lifetime have probably chased, on more than one occasion, what we thought to be reality, only to find out it was shadow.

There is a way around this wasted effort and disappointment however, and that is to follow the advice of our Lord found in Proverbs 3:5-6 which says: Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not unto your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge Him and He will make your paths straight. So, if you feel like you've been doing some shadow-chasing lately, I encourage you to take a chance on what Proverbs 3:5-6 suggests.

Executive Directors Report

Henry E. Harley

I have come to realize as I watch the news these days that Canada has come into the Main-Line news. I must say I am used to being a Canadian because I have been one since birth, as were my parents and indeed some of my grandparents. I believe I was blessed to have been born in the BEST country in the world.

It appears though that even although we have sent the Canadian Armed Forces abroad in war to fight for the protection of other countries and then we have stayed on as Peace Keepers that hasnt been enough.

Today's headlines in the news announce that arrests were made, Canadians who were planning terrorist action against our own country. A country that prides itself for its peace keeping efforts and indeed has sacrificed its young men and women to be Peace Keepers in a world that appears to be living in chaos.

Why is it that we seem to be having continuous conflicts around the world? I'm not a preacher and please stop me if I ever sound like one, but I am coming to the conclusion that if it wasn't so, the Bible would be incorrect, for the Bible does advise us that there will be chaos and, sure enough, no matter how hard man has tried to prove the Bible wrong, it becomes more true every day.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the Board of Directors for their efforts from coast to coast to make Bibles and Bible studies available to Peace Officers across the country. I also want to thank the many of you who have donated funds to enable the F.C.P.O. to be able to do this.

Now everyone get out their calendar. Planning is a virtue. Start planning now for a time away to Bridgewater, Nova Scotia for the 2011 National Conference and Convention of the F.C.P.O. Canada, August 18 - 21, 2011.

The committee has proven themselves to be planners as they have the whole weekend pinned down and arranged and it is still a year away! We would like to see a LARGE turnout of members. These weekends have always proven to be well worth the time, expense and effort that you put into it.

Henry E. (Hank) Harley
Executive Director

Depot, Beloved Depot

John Tidridge

I haven't been to Regina, much less had the opportunity to visit the R.C.M.P. Training Depot. However, I have been to, and survived, the British Brigade of Guards (Grenadiers) Training Depot at Caterham, Surrey, UK.

I am quite certain however, that new recruits at both depots would suffer the same anxiety passing through the gates. You feel uncomfortable and they do their best to impress upon you it is unknown territory you are entering!

They, people at the Depot, constantly remind you that you belong to them for the next several weeks. You are not even sure who (or what) they are. Strange surroundings, not entirely sure the course of action you have taken, is 100% correct.

It is immediately impressed upon you that you are not even a Guardsman or a Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman; you are a recruit, the lowest of all forms of life. It may be different today, but that is certainly how I experienced it during my training in 1953.

Caterham Training Depot is now a housing complex the Regina curriculum, I have no doubt is more modern and recruits are welcomed with open arms! Longer hair, gentler physical activities Maybe!

On reflection, I must credit my survival at Caterham to my Christian upbringing. My Christianity gave me much needed backbone taught me there is a right and wrong way to do things: it strengthened me to stick to the right. It taught me to watch and control my language. (except for some very difficult circumstances like when I slipped on some steps and almost ruined the toe a highly polished boot! You know about that, right?) So if your faith gets battered at the Depot, don't give up or in! I'm sure Jesus will be watching out for you.

At Caterham we were subjected to all kinds of ridiculous things: folding blankets, lining up kit bags, polishing floors. 12 weeks ended & we did all these things right; almost believed in them, finished up one of the best squads to leave the Guards Depot.

As a Christian you will find although your faith may be battered; it will also be strengthened. Trust me! And, if you are not a Christian, what do you have to lose?

John joined the Edmonton Police Service in 1959 and served with EPS until 1978. During the period from 1970 to 1972, John along with several others, were instrumental in initiating a Christian Fellowship among the members. Their motivation came from an article in a newsletter from the British Society. When John left in 1978 the fellowship was still functioning. John is a long-time member of FCPO. We would also like to thank John for his submission and want to encourage others of our membership to become contributors to the PeaceMaker. You can do so by emailing your article to fcpo@sasktel.net.

Thank You For Caring

I wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for the feedback you have been giving to our president regarding FCPO. Those relating to the PeaceMaker have been forwarded on to me and you will note that some of the changes have already been dealt with. More will occur in the future and I will be personally contacting some of you as a follow up.

Of course the membership is free to communicate wishes, desires, corrections, ideas and so forth with the PeaceMaker directly anytime at fcpo@sasktel.net.

From The Editors Desk

Merv Tippe

Charles Stanley has said, True peace does not come as a result of eliminating sorrows and disappointments. It comes as a result of one thing, and that is intimate relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ. He is where anxiety ends and true peace begins.

I wonder if you have ever noticed that when life lets you down, Jesus is standing by to lift you up. I have found great comfort in that many times. In John 14:27 Jesus said: My peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. Not as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid.

Now there are some words that you can live by, words that can cause you to rise up and be an overcomer in situations which seem to overwhelm. Many voices shout at us, but the voice that speaks truth speaks calm and soft. You might have found in your job, when chaos seems to reign in a given situation, you most always bring peace with a calm and soft steady voice rather than a loud and shouting voice.

Rex Chapman in his book, A Glimpse of God, writes: To be the greatest is a comforting prospect to the immature, but an irrelevance to the man of God. Our society puts significant pressure on you to be the greatest at what you do and that pressure causes you to strive hard to be what they expect.

In the end, we often find that we have spent significant time running up ladders that lead us nowhere valuable. Jesus gives us the answer to the question of being successful in Matthew 6:33 where He says: Seek first the Kingdom of God and all His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you.

There is only one way to true success that will last for and eternity and that is through knowing, loving and following the greatest leader there ever was, Jesus Christ. Now you might say that is simply my opinion and you would be right. However, I think if you are willing to give Him a try, it would soon become your opinion also.

Be Blessed
Merv

HUMOUR 2 START YOUR DAY

One night a new young officer was staking out a particularly rowdy bar toward closing time with the thought of DUI violations. After about an hour, he noted a fellow stumble out of the bar, trip over the entrance way, sway across the lot walking in the usual two steps forward, one step sideways and two steps backward kind of fashion.

After a time, the fellow reached the parked cars, and trying his keys in a number of them finally opened the door of the fifth car he'd tried. He then got in and started the engine. At that time other patrons also exited the bar, and began getting into their cars and leaving.

After everyone had left, the officer pulled his car in behind the fellow got out and promptly read the fellow his rights and requested a breath sample. The fellow complied and it returned 0.0. The officer said: How can this be?

It is very simple, said the man.
Tonight I am the designated decoy.

SEMINAR

INSPIRATIONAL TRUSTWORTHY LEADERS: The Power of Character

Robert (Bob) Vernon retired from the LAPD after 37 years on the Force. The son of a 20-year LAPD officer, Bob rose through the ranks from rookie street cop to second-in-command of one of the world's most respected police departments. He earned an MBA at Pepperdine University; graduated from the University of Southern California's Managerial Policy Institute; and from the FBI's National Executive Institute.

Since retirement, Bob Vernon founded the Pointman Leadership Institute, earlier named The Vernon Group, which has been asked to assist police agencies in former Soviet bloc countries. Police executives from these nations wanted to learn a more democratic model of police operation; including a re-education based on the morals, ethics, and spiritual concepts that developed Western culture.

Seminars began in 1994 in the Czech Republic and Hungary, and have since spread to over thirty countries. Not limited to police agencies, interest in principle-based ethics from Pointman Seminars has come from parliament members, military leaders, business professionals, educators, community groups and non-profit organizations.

Pointman's principle-based leadership seminars go beyond just changing behavior. Focusing on the importance of ethics and the true heart of powerful leadership individuals character.

Christian Police Transform Community Through God

CBN News Story June 11, 2010

Television news scenes of police brutality in Sao Paulo, Brazil were not uncommon in 1997. The city, home to 22 million people, was plagued with problems like crime, corruption, pockets of extreme poverty, and an out-of-control police force.

Fortunately, some police officers saw matters differently. I remember that Major Terra and I would get off work many times, and as our work is right in downtown, it saddened our hearts to see people lying on the ground...the homeless people, said Lieutenant Joel Rocha of Sao Paulo Military Police. Thats when we made a pact and said, Lets set aside a specific time each week and make it a priority to pray together. As Rocha and Major Alexander Terra began to pray, Terra was asked to start a new community policing policy. It was a good start, but Terra knew his first problem was the police force itself. Terra called on the Christian Officers Association for help, a support group for Sao Paulos officers - which now has 1,500 members.

A policeman who works with peace in his heart will produce peace in his community, police chaplain Robson Melchior said. Christian police began praying for their communities with impressive results. Researcher George Otis arrived in Sao Paulo to document the radical changes. There he met with police commanders. This commander, who is not a believer, gave me a big Brazilian bear hug, tears coming down his cheeks, and he said, Now I want you to go into the city and film this story and show it to the world. Show the world what God has been doing in these communities.

In the worst area of the city, the homicide rate has been lowered by 60%, and prayer has lead to great gains in curbing the citys drug problems. Energized by what they were seeing God do, Christian officers and pastors together began visiting families in crisis. Their lives have been changed, their marriages restored, military police officer Lucia da Silva Vera said. The Lord has delivered their children from drugs, from the depths of sin. He has really intervened.

Sao Paulos success attracted police commanders from other parts of Brazil. This is the thing that we have seen that there is a great hunger and appetite amongst law enforcement people to hear about this God factor, Otis said.

Now I understand that the things that God wants to do here He wants to do through men, and I am one of those men, Rocha said. I believe that God changes history, Sorge said. God changes people. God transforms the hearts of people. I believe this because God changed my history.
